WDD331R - Returning Student

Three things I found interesting while surfing the web.

1. <https://www.patatap.com/> - CSS animations and the way each key on the keyboard is mapped to different sounds and graphics

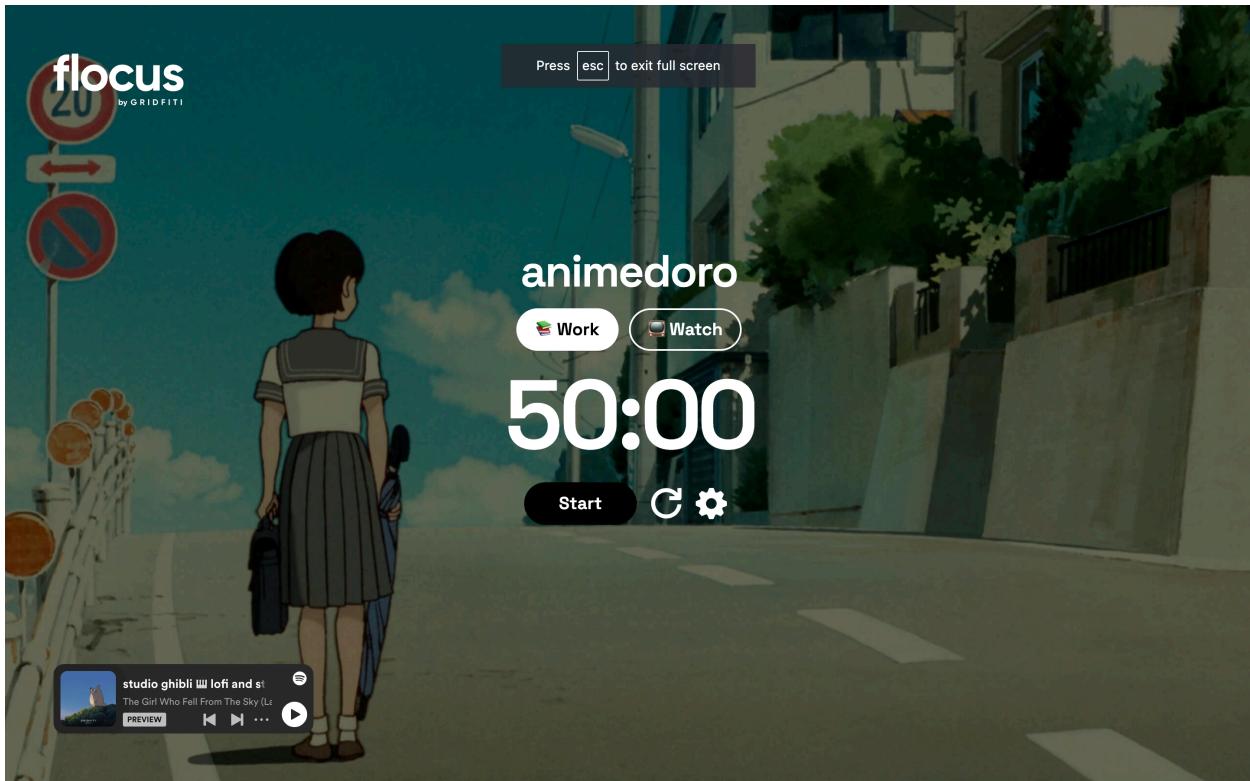

I took screenshots of what I mean but I can also press many keys simultaneously and it would return a mixture of the graphics with different background color. The graphics are very simple but because of the way they're animated, it looks really cool and magical.

2. https://flocus.io/animedoro-timer/?

utm_medium=organic&utm_source=swm&utm_campaign=swm_banner - Fullscreen feature of the timer.

This is the screenshot of the feature. There is a button towards the bottom right of the screen that lets you make the whole timer fullscreen. I thought this was really interesting.

3. <https://agoodmovietowatch.com/all/> - The running text like the ones on the bus effect.

This one was hard to capture through screenshot since the text is moving continuously, but it is like a running text like the ones of the bus, indicating its destination.
